SBB SCHOLARSHIPS Investing in the Future

With support from Santa Barbara Beautiful to partner with Architectural Foundation SB (administered through the Scholarship Foundation SB), the future of architecture is bright.

2022/23 Scholarship Recipient Omar Sanchez is a freshman architecture student at Cal Poly San Luis Obispo with a penchant for precision to his studies.

“Drawing was once a hobby of mine, but I never understood exactly what I was doing,” he said. “The more I’ve learned the more I admire the dedication and time that are essential to successful architectural plans. I want to be part of that process, and perhaps one day create something breathtaking.”

Omar’s prime motivation is his family. His parents and younger sister remain in his hometown of Santa Maria, but an older sister and other relatives live in Oaxaca, Mexico. He vows to visit them one day.

To earn money for college, Omar worked as a fieldhand with his father the last two summers. When he’s not working or studying, he can usually be found playing his guitar. Unsurprisingly, his favorite school subject is math.

“It’s similar to life. Sometimes you get a correct answer, and sometimes you don’t,” he said.

PIANOS ON STATE:

Interview With The Artist Sharyn Chan

The Santa Barbara Beautiful sponsored piano is now traditionally the Baby Grand Piano that goes to the Santa Barbara Airport for a full year.

Santa Barbara Beautiful: How many hours to complete the piano ?

Sharyn Chan: It took me roughly 20 hours.

SBB: Was the color Red significant?

Chan: Red is the traditional good luck color for Chinese which is my background.

SBB: What inspired the "whimsical gymnastic bunnies"?

Chan: Rabbits are associated with the Mid-Autumn Festival (also known as the Moon or Mooncake Festival) in Chinese culture. This important holiday is only surpassed by Chinese New Year as the most important festival in Chinese culture. The festival often uses imagery of the moon goddess Chang'e (pronounced Chang Er) with her rabbit. The rabbit came to join the moon goddess as the myth goes, because three immortals pretending to be beggars came to the forest begging for food. The fox & monkey gave them food but the rabbit had none so feeling guilty, he offered himself up as food to the beggars and jumped into the fire. Moved by the rabbit's sacrifice, they made the rabbit an immortal and sent him up to the Moon Palace to join Chang'e.

I loved the imagery of the rabbit during the festivals (plus I love rabbits) and thought it would be a really cute image inviting people to come and play with the rabbits on the piano.

SBB Board Members: Marcella Simmons, Lucrezia DeLeon, Penny Haberman, Mark Whitehurst, Kerry Methner, Stephanie Williams, and Deborah L. Schwartz

SBB: Any other points to share with the audience?

Chan: I love the idea of the Santa Barbara Beautiful piano in the baggage claim area welcoming travelers whether they be visitors or coming back home. I did not initially know my original idea of the piano would be chosen for the baby grand but with the colorful clouds and the fun loving bunnies, one does not need to know anything about the festival in order to feel the joy coming from the imagery. I am honored to be chosen to paint the baby grand and have Santa Barbara Beautiful as my sponsor. I travel quite often for my work as a muralist and chalk artist and I look forward to coming home and seeing the bunnies after every trip next year!

Chinese characters written in gold paint directly underneath the piano keyboard translate: Santa Barbara Welcomes You"

The interview was facilitated by SB Arts Collaborative via email.

PUBLIC SERVICE ANNOUNCEMENT—
TREES OF SANTA BARBARA

A Message from the City Arborist

Recently a few palms were removed along the city streets by SCE because they had grown close enough to the overhead electrical lines that they were now in conflict.

We’ll do our best to add these to our planting efforts for the winter. They are part of comprehensive planting efforts but I think we should be able make it happen without an issue.

Long term, especially in residential areas like this we are beginning to move away from the use of palms and increase our use of shade trees for reduction of heat island effect and a general increase in other environmental benefits shade trees provide over palms.

I MADONNARI
FEATURED ARTIST

Dawn Morrison Wagner

As Festival Sponsors, SBB celebrated this year’s talented featured artist Dawn Morrison Wagner.

As a nod to the SB Mission, and the origins of the art form, the general theme for my compilation is the Madonna and to those who painted her so beautifully,” Morrison shared.

Morrison Wagner, produced her first street painting back in 1988 during the I Madonnari festival and immediately fell in love with the art form. She is proud to say that she has participated in at least one festival per year, over the last 35 years.

COMMEMORATIVE TREE PROGRAM

The King Palm on Figueroa Street
Commemorative Tree – A Personal Story

Submitted by Nancy Clare Caponi / 2022

As I returned home one June afternoon, the purple Jacaranda blossoms were decorating our yard in profusion. I noticed a small boy and his mother on the sidewalk, in front of our downtown Craftsman home. Maybe five years old, the child was peering intently at the beautiful new memorial plaque in front of our King Palm street tree. After studying it for a while, the boy smiled, walked over and gave the tree a big hug, while his Mom and I watched in surprise and delight. He seemed to know that the Santa Barbara Beautiful tribute plaque designated this particular King Palm as special and noteworthy.

How wonderful!
